Each page ends with "There's always room for a little one here". When I read each page to the class, the children said that last line in unison (without any suggestion from me). They even figured out that the most important "little one" to share space in the stable was baby Jesus. Sweet Christmas story.

Head right into a room with another Nome, who offers you a sausage, and then go to grab the sausage to "hug" the final Nome [13/13] for the Trophy/Achievement: Little Lost Things. You can now climb up the box in the corner and pass through the window and then climb the ladder to spot the Maw's owner, but don't follow her.

If you ' ve got just a little air coming through the vent, the ductwork leading to the room may be leaky or full of holes. This problem is actually pretty common. According to ENERGY STAR, " in a typical house, however, about 20 to 30 percent of the air that moves through the duct system is lost due to leaks, holes, and poorly connected ducts. "

The panther room has been learning about the life cycle of a chicken. Today one of our eggs hatched. We talked about what the chick used to get out of the egg... On the 21st day, the chick begins to break out of the shell. Using its egg tooth, it first pecks a hole through the shell. Then it pecks a circle around the end of the egg.
